

Most Czechs Are Heeding Leaders' No Protest Pleas

PRAGUE (AP) — The Czechoslovak National Assembly today adopted a resolution demanding a firm deadline for the withdrawal of Soviet-led occupation troops and condemning the occupation as illegal.

Informants said the National Assembly also declared it could not ratify the Moscow agreement because it was reached under pressure.

PRAGUE (AP) — Despite youthful protests and widespread resentment, most Czechoslovaks appeared today to be heeding their leaders' pleas not to provoke the occupation troops as the Prague regime began cutting back its liberalization program to meet Moscow's demands.

A thousand youths demonstrated in Prague Tuesday night against their government's agreement to the stationing of Soviet troops in the country and the curtailment of the new freedoms. "We do not want a compromise! We want to know the truth!" they shouted.

Some underground radio stations, broadcasting from secret locations, demanded that the accord be rejected.

"We refuse to recognize the agreement," the broadcasts said. "Let us not be humiliated or knuckled under."

Remove Pictures

A crowd in Prague's Wenceslas Square tore down pictures of the reformist leaders who since January had led the country away from 20 years of Stalinist-type rule but now have to reimpose restrictions under the pressure of 350,000 Soviet bloc occupation troops.

But along with these outbursts, the reaction of many others was one of angry resignation. An occasional shout was heard in Prague during the night, but on the whole the city was quiet.

Back from four days of negotiations in Moscow, Czechoslovak Communist party chief Alexander Dubcek called in a broadcast for trust "even if we shall have to carry out some special temporary measures restricting the degree of democratization, the freedom of speech we have already achieved... But I am asking you to realize the times we live in."

Troops To Leave Cities

Dubcek said the occupation troops will be pulled back from towns and villages to special areas. He appealed to the population not to start any sort of campaign against them "because the final aim of our activities is to achieve the full departure of the armies as soon as possible."

The communique after the Moscow talks said the troops would leave when "the situation in Czechoslovakia normalizes." There was no indication of any target date.

Armed Soviet soldiers, armored cars and tanks still guarded key places in Prague today but had withdrawn from the bridges across the Vltava River and from around government and Communist party buildings.

For the first time since the occupation began Aug. 20, people were able to walk unmolested through the streets at night although there was no announcement that the 10 p.m.-5 a.m. curfew imposed by the Russians had been lifted.

A group of youths stood guard all night at the statue of St. Wenceslas, which has become a shrine since a 14-year-old boy was shot there on the first day of the occupation. A large poster said: "We want total democracy."

Russian soldiers did not approach, but ripped off some of the other proliberal and anti-Soviet posters in the capital. Earlier armored cars turned into side streets to avoid demonstrators shouting, "We do not want to live on our knees!"

Retreat In U.N.

The communique from the Moscow talks said the troops would not interfere with Dubcek's government. One of the conditions imposed on Prague, however, was that press and broadcast attacks on the Soviet government and its orthodox Communist allies must halt.

In the United Nations, Czechoslovakia asked the Security Council to drop further debate on the Soviet invasion. Chief Delegate Jan Muzik, who earlier had called the invasion illegal and pleaded for action, said his government wanted the matter off the U.N. agenda "in view of the agreement reached in Moscow on the substance of the question."

Resistance Simmers

VIENNA (AP) — Often regarded as the more docile and pragmatic of the Slavic peoples the Czechs and the Slovaks wrote a new chapter last week in the chronicle of resistance to threats of force.

Their conduct during a week of occupation and their first reaction to the agreement in Moscow between the Soviet leaders and the men from Prague suggests that some resistance may continue.

On a 300-mile drive through occupied Czechoslovakia I saw anti-Soviet sentiment to a degree that would have been unthinkable a year ago.

Hundreds of Czechs, 15 to 40, have been parading the past week in Wenceslas Square, the center of Prague, hooting and shaking their fists at Soviet tank crews.

During one of the demonstrations, a retired factory foreman told me proudly: "Look at them, they are our youth. A whole generation that grew up under socialism and was taught to regard the Russians as brothers. But in one week, all is changed. This is something for the whole world to think about."

U.S. Raps Hanoi On Politicking

PARIS (AP) — The United States accused North Vietnam today of meddling in American politics, and demanded that it quit. Spurning the demand, Hanoi's Ambassador Xuan Thuy accused President Johnson's administration of forcibly suppressing opposition to the Vietnam war.

Thuy's statement was made in the 19th session of the Paris peace talks. U.S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman called for a start in serious peacemaking with an end to what he described as North Vietnamese interference in American internal affairs.

The three-hour session focused on the issue of American bombing policy. No sign of progress was detected by Harriman.

Harriman, acting on instructions from Washington called on Thuy to quit "trying to interfere in internal American affairs" with constant comments on the presidential election contest.

Thuy displayed his disinterest in the protest by sailing once more into a freewheeling assault on the Johnson administration.

"Among the American people the voice against the U.S. war of aggression in Vietnam is every day growing louder," Thuy told Harriman.

"This is why in the present election campaign, in order to cope with the indignation of the people, the U.S. authorities have had to use barbed wire and tens of thousands of troops and police agents."

A reliable source said he was rushed to an air force hospital during the night. Now 80, he has had heart trouble for some time, and aides reported recently his health was failing.

Papandreou has been under house arrest almost continuously since army leaders seized power 15 months ago to prevent his Center Union party from winning a general election. His son Andreas, his chief aide and political heir apparent, spent eight months in jail after the coup and was allowed to leave Greece in January.

Merrill Lynch, Pierce & Smith Accused

Top Securities Firm Charged With Fraud

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Securities and Exchange Commission has leveled fraud charges against Wall Street's biggest securities firm on grounds that it leaked a big-money secret only to certain major investors.

The regulatory agency set no date Tuesday when it announced hearings would be held on charges by its staff against the nation's biggest and best-known broker-dealer, Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith.

Nine officers and five salesmen of the firm, as well as 15 institutional investors—the alleged receivers of the hot tip from Merrill Lynch—also were called on the carpet.

Mutual Funds Involved

The investors included the Madison Fund and Dreyfus Corp., top mutual funds.

"We are convinced that none of our people acted wrongfully and you can be sure we will defend our position vigorously," Merrill Lynch said in a statement issued in New York.

John Haire, chairman of Anchor Corp., into which Investors Management Co., one of the cited firms, was consolidated recently, said:

"To the best of our knowledge, we did not receive any nonpublic information regarding Douglas Aircraft from Merrill Lynch which was not available to us from other sources."

Earnings Off

According to the SEC, Merrill Lynch was helping Douglas Aircraft Co. prepare a bond issue when it learned the big plane-builder's earnings, contrary to earlier optimistic reports, were in bad shape.

The SEC version of what followed is that this word passed through the Merrill Lynch personnel to a chosen few investors and that immediately thereafter the holdings in Douglas in the expectation that its value was about to drop.

Meanwhile, the regulatory agency said, other Douglas shareholders were left in the dark—indeed, Merrill Lynch continued to sell Douglas to anyone who wanted to buy, the SEC said.

Dumping Douglas

The dumping lasted half a week—until June 24, when Douglas publicly announced it might be faced with a no-profit year.

During the unloading, the SEC said, the large investors it has cited cleared their portfolios of 190,000 shares of the unwanted stock. An informed source said these shares sold for some $4.5 million more than they would have brought if traded at the price that prevailed June 29.

To reward Merrill Lynch for sharing the secret with them, the SEC said, the favored customers, when making subsequent large transactions with other firms, would direct that the commissions be split, part going to Merrill Lynch.

In Wall Street parlance, this is a "give up," a practice the SEC has already drawn a bead on in hearings it opened in July. The New York Stock Exchange, formerly a defender of give ups, announced recently it was prepared to see them banned.

Merrill Lynch personnel cited were Winthrop Lenz, chairman of the executive committee; Gillette K. Martin, senior vice president; seven vice presidents and five salesmen.

The institutional investors cited included Fairfield Partners; J. M. Hartwell & Co.; J. M. Hartwell & Co., Inc.; Hartwell Associates; Park Westlake Associates; Van Strum & Towne, Inc.; Fleschner Becker Associates; A. W. Jones & Co.; A. W. Jones Associates; City Associates; Burden Investors Services and William A. M. Burden & Co.

McCarthy was quoted in a copyright interview by Knight Newspapers as saying he thinks Humphrey has the nomination wrapped up.

"I think it was probably settled more than 24 hours ago," McCarthy said.

"Just Philosophical"

The stunned McCarthy supporters rushed out a statement saying the Minnesota senator was only being a bit philosophical. Richard M. Goodwin, a top aide, said McCarthy had asked him to say "he has not conceded defeat in the nomination fight."

In the interview, McCarthy estimated it would be too late for even the younger Kennedy, last of the brothers, to stop Humphrey.

Fresh talk of a draft effort swirled Tuesday after a meeting by California Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh with McCarthy and McGovern.

An Unruh aide said the session was arranged to "see whether some common front can be put together in favor of some peace candidate."

Back Kennedy?

It was reported Unruh suggested the two contenders drop out and throw their weight behind Kennedy. There was no indication that they agreed. Nevertheless, California reserved in advance the right to place a name in nomination on tonight's roll call.

President Johnson, who has stayed away from his party's convention, gave Humphrey an informal boost while celebrating his 60th birthday Tuesday.

Johnson said he hopes the views of the Democrat and Republican nominees "will not be too divergent" so the world would have to wait until November to know which way the nation will go.

Moves Close To Nomination And Strikes Snag

CHICAGO (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey faced a Democratic convention revolt on Vietnam policies today as he seemed within reach of the party's presidential nomination.

As Humphrey moved within 146 votes of the 1,312 needed for nomination, backers of his two major opponents, Sens. Eugene J. McCarthy and George S. McGovern, merged their efforts early today and forced a crucial delay in the showdown battle over the party's Vietnam policy.

The convention suddenly adjourned after meeting seven hours when large numbers of delegates started shouting and handclapping when reading started of the proposed platform plank recommending continuing policies set by President Johnson and Humphrey.

Denies Conceding

McCarthy startled some of his followers Tuesday when he told editors of the Knight newspaper group that he thought Humphrey had wrapped up the nomination. Later, a McCarthy spokesman denied that the Minnesota senator had conceded and said he intended to continue fighting.

As all this went on, talk of a draft of Sen. Edward M. Kennedy filled the floor and corridors of Chicago's International Amphitheatre, site of the convention.

Humphrey forces maintained their march of convention victories in seating contests over Southern delegations, and the vice president picked up a parade of endorsements from favorite son candidates in Texas, Tennessee and South Carolina to push him very close to the 1,312 votes needed for the nomination tonight.

Delegate Poll

But the convention pace was imperiled when efforts to reach the critical test vote of Humphrey-McCarthy strength on the Vietnam issue were forestalled by the shouting demonstration to adjourn and reconvene at 1 p.m. EDT today.

The latest Associated Press count of publicly committed and pledged delegates:

Ted Kennedy Not Available

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy said today he would not be able to accept Democratic nomination for president "for personal and family reasons."

The Massachusetts Senator appealed to those pressing a draft-Kennedy movement at the Democratic National Convention in Chicago "to cease all activity on my behalf so that the convention can choose its nominee from among the capable and dedicated candidates already in contention."

bombing of North Vietnam with a response from Hanoi.

Antiwar forces have pressed a substitute approach calling for a complete bombing halt without any conditions and urging a cut-back in U.S. military activity in South Vietnam.

Wary delegates, chanting, "Let's go home, let's go home," forced the breakup of the convention before reaching a vote on Vietnam.

Convention Chairman Rep. Carl Albert of Oklahoma refused to accept the first motion to adjourn, and antiwar delegates drowned out the efforts of the next scheduled speaker to be heard, even though he was allied with them.

Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley, the convention host, shouted threats to clear the convention galleries. He roared that he would not stand for "the balconies trying to take over this meeting." At Albert's invitation, Daley made the motion to adjourn.

McCarthy and McGovern forces hailed the adjournment as a victory. McGovern aide Frank Mankiewicz, press secretary to the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, shouted jubilantly, "We have 11 hours to get 80 votes," and said the insurgents were that close to winning their platform battle.

In downtown Chicago, National Guard troops armed with rifles surrounded the hotel where McCarthy and Humphrey are staying to guard it against demonstrators after police used tear gas to flush hundreds of antiwar protesters from a lakefront park for the second straight night.

Credentials Fights

Humphrey continued to win floor battles upholding the decisions of the Credentials Committee to set the regular Alabama and North Carolina delegations and to split the Georgia votes evenly between party regulars and a biracial group of challengers.

But Southern favorite sons toppled like tenpins under pressure from the Humphrey camp to deliver most of their delegations. The vice president cashed in on Dixie sentiment that he was less objectionable as the party's nominee than either McCarthy or McGovern.

This meant for Humphrey the cementing of a Southern base similar to the one that supplied the margin for the Republican nomination of Richard M. Nixon two weeks ago.

Ike's Heart Still Irregular

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's doctors are tempering their most optimistic report with a warning that "this favorable trend is capable of reversing at any time."

Medical bulletins Tuesday said the 77-year-old general is still experiencing the irregular extra beats described as heart irritability.

But the reports said the optimism was based on the fact that Eisenhower has undergone no serious heart fluttering—called ventricular fibrillation—since severe episodes Saturday.

Doctors said in answer to reporters' questions that it is impossible to tell when Eisenhower will cease to be considered critical.

He has suffered four heart attacks in less than four months, the first coming during a vacation in Palm Springs, Calif., April 29.

Man, 20, Held In Rape Case At Manistique

MANISTIQUE — Arturo Chavez Ramirez, 20, of Robstown, Tex., stood mute when arraigned at 11:30 a.m. today before Justice Howard Magoon on a charge of felonious rape.

A plea of innocent was entered for him by the court and preliminary hearing set for 1 p.m. Sept. 5. Ramirez was lodged in the Schoolcraft County Jail in lieu of $5,000 bond set by Magoon.

State Police said Ramirez was arrested at 10 p.m. Tuesday and charged in connection with an assault on a 49-year-old Manistique woman on Aug. 24. Police declined comment on whether or not Ramirez might have been involved in an assault on a 76-year-old Manistique woman.

Officers said Ramirez is employed as a laborer with the H. C. Price Construction Co., which is involved in construction of natural gas pipeline in the area. He has been living in a trailer at the rear of the Harbor Bar, Manistique, for the past three weeks, officers said.

public safety director, said that State Police are cooperating in the investigation. After a conference with Schoolcraft County Prosecutor Gottfried S. Johnson Tuesday afternoon, the following joint statement was released:

sible should be considered dangerous. Residents are cautioned to keep their doors locked and report any suspicious persons to police."

Prowlers Reported

Chief Anderson said that numerous reports of window peepers had been received by his department this summer, but that the total was not as high as in other years. Investigation of each report has shown that no adults were involved and that most of the complaints resulted from youngsters who were "camping out" in back yards for the evening.

City Manager Robert Noe urged local residents not to panic over the situation and said there is a real danger of some youngster being mistaken for a prowler and accidentally shot.

He urged all residents to lock their doors securely at night and to promptly call police if they suspect prowlers or intruders.

A two-year-old girl escaped serious injury Tuesday when she ran into the side of a passing automobile on County Rd. 414 in Wells Township, State Police reported.

Christine Schwartz, Rte. 1, Gladstone, was treated by a private physician for minor injuries.

Officers said she ran into the side of a car driven by Grace A. Barron Rte. 1, Gladstone, about 12:55 p. m. The girl had been playing in sand along the highway, troopers reported.

State Police also reported that Florence Degnan, 226 Lake Shore Dr., Escanaba, was ticketed for making an unsafe start after she backed across M-35 from a private driveway in Ford River Township into the path of a car driven by Howard Sorenson, Menominee. Neither driver was injured, officers said. The accident happened about 8:30 p. m.

Michigan Unit At Convention Is Leaderless

By DICK MILLIMAN
of Panax Newspapers

CHICAGO — You get in from the job about 3:30 in the morning, try to grab a few hours sleep, then sneak breakfast if you can before reporting back for the job at 10:30.

No break for lunch until about 3 p. m., when you have about two hours to answer mail, make a few telephone calls, eat lunch or supper, whichever you prefer, then grab a bus to report to your next work station.

Your bosses have told you to look alert as you report for work again at 6 p. m., where you are subjected to crowded conditions, little access to food or rest facilities, and no 10-minute coffee break every hour.

You're on this part of the job until after midnight again, and then start in the routine over again.

Sound tough? It is. But it's the routine of the Michigan delegates and alternates to this Democratic National Convention.

Delay On Task

And the real job of these delegates — a hard-working, serious-minded, hungry and weary lot — is to pick the man they want to lead their country, and become the most important single person in the free world.

The first impression you get from living with the delegates here in Chicago is that they work too long and too hard, and take themselves too seriously.

All the details, all the implications of the credentials committee reports, the platform committee report, convention functions are dissected, debated, discussed and decided—not in broad outline, but in agonizing detail.

As of Wednesday morning, the Michigan caucus had not even gotten down to the primary business at hand—formal discussion of how they're going to vote for president.

Michigan Democrats must be among the most caucus-conscious individuals in the whole world. They meet more hours

Three Michigan Soldiers Killed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three Michigan servicemen were among 35 Vietnam war casualties announced Tuesday by the Defense Department.

Killed in action was Army Sgt. David T. Judd, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marion L. Judd of Birmingham.

Declared dead as a result of hostile action was Army Spec. 4 David L. Adams, son of Paul in C. Carter of Mount Morris; and Army Spec. 4 Roger R. Moll, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph P. Moll of Bay City. Adams and Moll has previously been listed as missing in action.

LBJ Is Edging Toward Hubert

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson, while declaring a hands-off attitude toward the work of the Democratic National Convention, has edged close to an indirect endorsement of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.

Meeting with newsmen at an informal 60th birthday party here Tuesday night, Johnson said he hoped the views of the Democratic and Republican presidential candidates "will not be too divergent" so the world won't have to wait until the November election to assess the nation's future course.

With Vietnam and foreign policy obviously uppermost in his mind, Johnson's statement was widely interpreted as meaning he would prefer a Humphrey nomination—though he carefully had some kind words, too, for the vice president's principal rivals, Sens. Eugene J. McCarthy and George McGovern.

Republican nominee Richard M. Nixon is on record with Vietnam views much closer to those of Johnson and Humphrey than either McCarthy or McGovern.

All in all it's a wonder anything can get done at a national convention. But it does.

There ought to be a better way.

K. Of C. Council Adopts Six-Point Activity Program

A six-point program of activities for 1968-69 has been adopted by Knights of Columbus Council 640 of Escanaba.

The program is planned as a basis for establishing and maintaining two purposes, to provide a full schedule of activity in the fields of family protection and welfare, religious, civic and patriotic endeavor, education, athletics, charitable work and youth development, and to provide an opportunity for each member to participate in active work according to his specific personal interests.

The program was presented by Walter Johnson, deputy grand knight, and Gene Marcantonio, grand knight, to newly-elected council chairmen, including Irving Houle, council activities; Robert Leveille, Catholic activity; Robert Bing, fraternal activity; Joseph Gron-dine, membership; Roger Jen-shak, public relations, and Francis DeNome, family activities.

Recover Body At Menominee

MENOMINEE — Skin divers from Marinette and Menominee county sheriff's departments Tuesday recovered the body of Lester J. Smith Jr., 25, of Menominee.

Smith disappeared in over 20 feet of water Saturday while skin diving in Green Bay off Tourist Park. Smith was diving with younger brother, Gerald and Richard, both of Menominee, off their 23-foot cabin cruiser when he disappeared.

Briefly Told

State Police ticketed James Plouff, Rte. 1, Gladstone, for speeding Tuesday.

Escanaba police have issued a traffic court notice to Mabel Swanson, Rapid River Rte. 3, for failing to stop in the assured clear distance.

Pearson Takes Principal's Job At Bark River

BARK RIVER — Charles Pearson, who has spent the past 12 years teaching at Dearborn, will take over as principal of the Bark River-Harris High School when classes begin Tuesday, Sept. 3.

Pearson replaced Lloyd Bruce, who will devote more time to his position as guidance director.

A native of Escanaba, Pearson received degrees in education and educational administration from Michigan State University and the University of Michigan.

Students will report for classes at 1:15 p. m., Tuesday. Teach Teachers report at 9 a. m. Kindergarten children will not report until Wednesday.

The only new member of the teaching faculty is Mrs. Diana K. Wood, who will teach English and speech in the high school. She has a bachelor's degree from Northern Michigan University.

A non-graded reading program of students from grades two through six and an adult education program are being added to the school's curriculum. The adult program will include basic education to fulfill requirements for a high school diploma.

School hours, bus runs and the lunch program will remain the same as last year.

New families to the district should contact the superintendent's office before the first day of school to register children for classes.

A total enrollment of about 669 students is estimated for the district on the following basis: Kindergarten, 70; Grade 1, 50; Grade 2, 45; Grade 3, 55; Grade 4, 52; Grade 5, 50; Grade 6, 50; Grade 7, 60; Grade 8, 60; Grade 9, 45; Grade 10, 50; Grade 11, 44, and Grade 12, 38.

Hospitality Of U. S. Praised By Hollander

Perceptive and sometimes amusing comparisons between life in the United States and his native Holland were reported by Hans VanHeiningen of Escanaba to his fellow Rotarians at the club luncheon at the House of Ludington Tuesday.

He first came to the United States in 1959, returned to Holland for a time, and then came to this country to make his home in 1964.

VanHeiningen, who is manager of the Bay de Noc Cooperative Co., described Holland's monarchy and its representative government composed of two chambers. There are 25 political parties in the country and of necessity there is a coalition government.

Education in Holland is as good as that in the United States but fewer young people have the opportunity to go on to university or college, he reported.

Lacking most raw materials, Holland is a trading nation and Rotterdam surpasses New York in total marine tonnage, for through Rotterdam flows much of the goods to the European hinterland. Strikes are few in Holland, for unionism is not as strong as in the United States, he said.

Wooden shoes, said VanHeiningen, are worn by farmers in the field and from his own farm experience he reported that once your feet are calloused "they are very comfortable."

Of European attitudes against America, he said:

"I think it is deplorable, the demonstrations against the United States, for much of Europe would not be as advanced today had it not been for America and the Marshall Plan."

"I am happy to come to America. It is a great opportunity. Four years ago we arrived — my wife and our two children — with all we had packed into three barrels and all that we have gained since then has been due to American hospitality."

VanHeiningen was introduced by Bernard Brawley of

Mrs. Peters, 73, Called By Death

Mrs. Leo Peters, 73, of 604 S. 13th St., died at 8:05 Tuesday in St. Francis Hospital following a lengthy illness.

The former Elizabeth Reseak was born March 20, 1895 in Medford, Wis., and had resided in Escanaba for the past 56 years. She had been employed for many years as a cook at the Delta Hotel. She married Leo Peters on Jan. 26, 1914.

Besides her husband she is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Stanley (Beverly) Harris and Mrs. Wade (Lorraine) Benson, Escanaba; eight grandchildren; two brothers, William and Louis Reseak, Medford and one sister, Mrs. Joseph (Lena) O'Connell, Fremont, Wis.

Friends may call at the Degnan-Crawford Funeral Home Thursday from 3 to 9:30 p. m. Funeral arrangements will be conducted Friday at 11 a. m. at the funeral home chapel with Rev. Charles Carmody of St. Patrick's Church officiating. Burial will be in Gardens of Rest Cemetery.

Arrest Five For Robbing Graves

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Kalamazoo County sheriff's deputies reported today they had a case of grave-robbing on their hands.

Five people, including a biology major at Western Michigan University and two juveniles were arrested Tuesday after police said they received an anonymous tip that graves had been opened in an old cemetery in Comstock Township, east of the city.

Deputies said eight graves, said to be about 100 years old, were opened and bags of bones were found nearby.

Nine Injured In Pontiac Fire

PONTIAC (AP)—At least nine persons were injured in a $300,000 fire that reduced a four-story transient hotel to a gutted shell in Downtown Pontiac today.

All of the injured, including a Pontiac fireman, were reported in good condition.

The entire Pontiac fire department responded to the three-alarm fire which broke out shortly before midnight at the 45-year-old Roosevelt Hotel where more than 100 guests, many in pajamas, were evacuated.

The fire, which is believed to have begun in the basement, devoured its way to the roof as charred timbers came crashing down through the blackened floors below.

He's Legally Cleared, But . . . Kelley Opposes Demo For MSU

CHICAGO (AP)—A Michigan State University trustee says he will withdraw as a candidate for renomination if one of five political colleagues joins the attorney general in refusing to support him. But trustee C. Allen Harlan indicates he does not expect that to happen.

"I am very much involved in seeking this (renomination) and I think I'm going to win," he said.

Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley ruled Tuesday that Harlan, also an "employee" of an electric company whose subsidiary does some business with MSU, is not in conflict of interest.

But in a press statement unrelated to his formal opinion, Kelley said he could not support Harlan for renomination to the MSU board this year. Both Harlan and Kelley are Democrats.

In Chicago where he is attending the Democratic national convention, Harlan said:

"If (one of five specified Democrats) feels that I have taken any position that is not in the best interest of the total university and political party of which I am a part, I will not seek renomination.

"If you get one to agree with Frank Kelley on this you call me back and I'll give you my announcement that I am not seeking renomination."

Harlan named: former Gov. G. Mennen Williams, now U.S. ambassador to the Philippines; Michigan's former Democratic National Committeeman Neil Staebler; Secretary of State James Hare; and fellow MSU trustees Frank Hartman and Clair White.

None was available for immediate comment.

Harlan added that he did not feel "this opinion of Frank Kelley hurts my possibilities in any way whatsoever" for renomination at the Democratic State Convention this weekend in Grand Rapids.

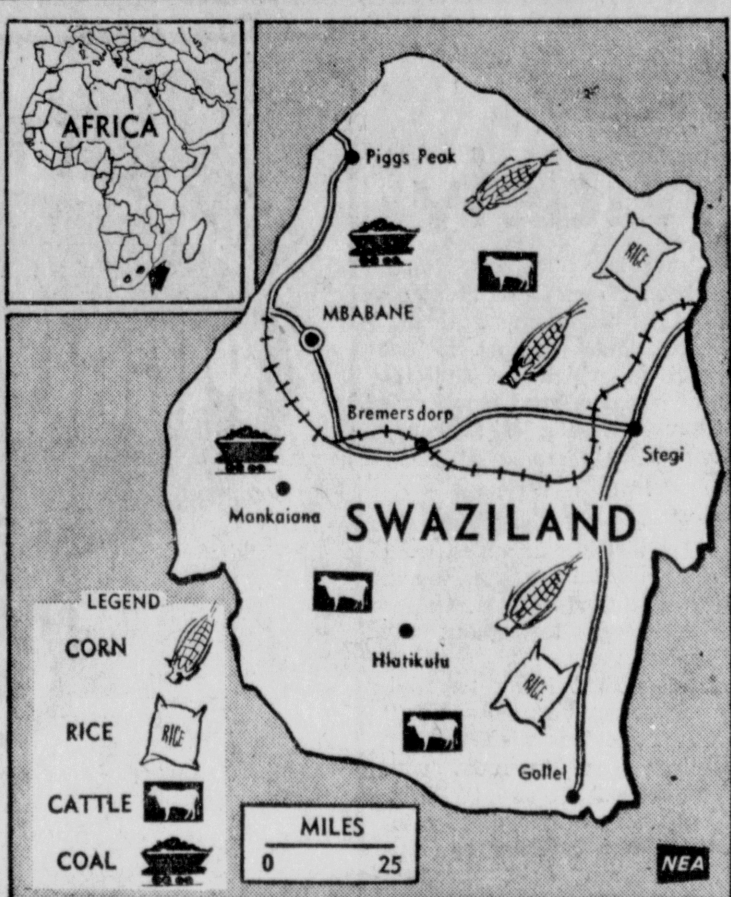

In his press statement, Kelley said he was "not speaking in my role as chief legal officer of the state, but rather as a concerned public official and as one given leadership responsibility by my political party."

Kelley listed two questions:

"1. Without questioning his good motives or intentions, has Mr. Harlan's role in the recent developments on the board been helpful or disruptive?

"2. Will the public interest best be served by Mr. Harlan's continued service on the board?" There was no elaboration.

The attorney general answered, however, that he "must conclude that while I am sure that Mr. Harlan has made significant contributions to the university, I cannot under the present circumstances support his renomination as a member of the board."

SWAZILAND, THE LAST RELIC of Britain's once vast African colonial empire, gains its independence Sept. 6. The small, land-locked country seems assured of a right-wing one-party government for at least the immediate future. The 400,000 inhabitants are virtually all members of the Swazi tribe, with a white minority numbering about 9,000 persons.

Demos Torn Apart, Says Jerry Ford

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—"The Democratic party today is torn apart, but Richard Nixon has unified the Republican party," Rep. Gerald Ford, House minority leader, said Tuesday.

Ford, a 20-year congressional veteran from Michigan, predicted Nixon will be the next president, and that the GOP will gain 40 or more House seats in November.

Ford predicted Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey will be the Democratic nominee. Behind Humphrey, he said, stands "the most powerful political organization that exists today, a closed corporation."

Clear Worker On Excess Fee

LANSING (AP)—A workman who charged a 73-year-old spinster $600 for chimney repairs worth an estimated $25 was exonerated Tuesday by the State Court of Appeals.

In ordering Lenawee County Circuit Judge Rex B. Martin to dismiss charges against Thomas Olive Marks Jr., the appellate court noted that Marks did not make any false statements to the woman before beginning the work.

"Although there is no question that defendant (Marks) has acted in an ethically indefensible manner in overcharging (the woman), nevertheless his actions do not fall within the scope of (the state law) which deals with obtaining money under false pretenses," the court said, adding:

"An essential element of the crime is a fraudulent misrepresentation, and the mere gross overcharge does not constitute fraudulent misrepresentation."

Imprisoned

DETROIT — (AP) — Wayne County Circuit Judge John M. Wise Tuesday sentenced two Highland Park policemen to up to 2½ years in prison for receiving and concealing stolen property during last summer's riots.

Sentenced were John J. Vaughn, 30, and Norman K. Biedsoe, 24.

New Poe Lock Gets First Fill

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP)—With a roaring cascade of water, the newly built Poe Lock—biggest by far in the entire St. Lawrence Seaway system—was filled for the first time Tuesday.

Officials raised a giant steel girder that had been holding back Lake Superior. Then a waterfall, 110 feet wide and 18 inches deep, began surging into the $40 million lock at Sault Ste. Marie on the St. Marys River between Lake Superior and Lake Huron.

Three hours later, 50 million gallons of water had filled the lock, bringing it to the level of the largest of the Great Lakes.

It marked the near end of a massive construction project which began June 1, 1961, when workmen started tearing apart the old lock. Actual construction of the Poe Lock began Aug. 7, 1964.

No freighter currently steaming in the ocean or Great Lakes is too big for the Poe.

But a 1,000-foot-long super vessel is on order for the 1970 shipping season, and construction of the lock was aimed toward this time. The Poe is 1,200 feet long, 110 feet wide and 61 feet deep along its walls.

It will accommodate a freighter 1,000 feet long and 100 feet wide. The largest freighter now on the lakes measures about 730 feet.

The biggest lock currently in operation on the seaway is the MacArthur, which is 800 feet long.

The first filling of the Poe lock was done without a lot of fanfare. Regular employees of the locks manned the devices which allowed the water to tumble in as an assortment of about 100 workers, newsmen and bystanders watched.

Dick Hillock of Sault Ste. Marie pushed the first button.

Official dedication ceremonies will be held early next summer. By then, the lock is expected to be in full use by the regular shipping trade.

Testing of the lock will be completed during the next month. It is likely that the Poe may be handling lakes freighters before the end of the 1968 shipping season.

The lock was named for Gen. Orlando M. Poe, a Michigan Civil War hero and onetime Army engineer at the Sault.

Besides the MacArthur, there are two other locks in operation on the U. S. side of the St. Marys River—the Sabine and the Davis.

Teachers' Strikes May Delay Schooling Widely

LANSING (AP) — Spokesmen for Michigan teachers warn that contract disputes may delay school opening for some 178,000 youngsters in 28 districts this fall.

"Everybody would like settlement," James O'Brien, secretary-treasurer of the Michigan Federation of Teachers (MFT), said Tuesday. "Everybody is pushing for the opening of schools in the traditional Labor Day week — but it's not going to happen."

Some 111 of the state's more than 530 school districts were without contracts Tuesday, but officials from the MFT and the Michigan Education Association (MEA) appeared optimistic about some.

"We do anticipate some will settle," O'Brien said. The MFT represents teachers in 20 districts, half of which still are without contracts.

"All our efforts are bent toward reaching agreement," said Kai Erickson, MEA chief negotiator, "and in some areas this appears possible." Of the MEA's 516 local units, 415 have reached settlements.

The outlook is brighter this year than last, when school opening was delayed for nearly one-fourth of Michigan's 2.06 million children and 20,000 of their 84,000 teachers.

Some 300,000 of those youngsters were in Detroit, where the 11,500 teachers delayed opening day for two weeks in a contract dispute. Detroit teachers this year are operating under a two-year contract.

Nonetheless, O'Brien said teachers in three MFT districts — which he identified only by saying they are in the Greater Detroit area — have "ordered strike phones and set up strike offices."

"The teachers feel that they have rights and privileges and they maintain in most cases by a vote — that unless agreeable settlement is reached, they will not come in to work," he said.

The districts have set up what O'Brien termed "complete work stoppage communications networks, established hot lines" to feed information to those involved. They are prepared to withhold services "because there has been no move to meet demands or come near them," O'Brien said, pointing to one district in which he said the school board offered teachers a contract including a $200 pay cut from last year.

Half In Wayne

Erickson said about half the 25 MEA districts in which work stoppages are anticipated are in the Wayne County area. Others are scattered throughout the state, he said.

He described some negotiating sessions as "armed camps," in which previous hostilities are "coming home to roost with a vengeance."

Negotiators in one district indicated some teachers are bitter, Erickson said, because "personnel files are filled with little things like refusing to pick up a milk bottle. This precludes good faith bargaining."

Erickson said that in the same district "the board has not prepared."

Milliken Pleads

"They appear at meetings with no positions," he said. "The teachers proposed a contract with about 40 articles sometime in May, but the board has not responded in terms of position on three-fourths of the proposals."

Some MEA districts also are bracing for delays in school opening, Erickson said. Local arrangements are being made for advising teachers, for providing them with the latest information on contract progress and financial provisions through local credit unions.

Lt. Gov. William Milliken has sent special messages to heads of both negotiating teams in every unsettled school district, urging speedy settlements. Milliken, charged with overseeing the State Labor Mediation the State Labor Mediation Board. He said Tuesday he expected the state's law prohibiting public employee strikes would be tested again this year.

CAPITALISTIC FARMER

The development of farm machinery in the 20th century has put the modern farmer in the capitalist class. Today the average American farm worker has about 40 horsepower at his command, as against 1.6 h.p. in 1870, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

England's Queen Mary I was called "Bloody Mary" because of the religious persecutions that occurred during her reign.

Big Bay Schools Opening Tuesday Sept. 3 At 1 PM

Schools of the Big Bay de Noc District will reopen Tuesday, Sept. 3, at 1 p.m. with shortened class sessions for all pupils.

All teachers are asked to report Tuesday at 8:45 at their respective schools for a pre-school conference with their principals.

The hot lunch program will begin Wednesday, Sept. 4. Cost of meals will remain the same.

'Playing Games With The Law'

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP) — Mrs. Mary Canning admitted she took candy, toothpaste, a pen and other items when brought before Justice of the Peace James McInturf on a charge of shoplifting.

Mrs. Canning said she was working on a master's degree in sociology and psychology at Gonzaga University and took the stuff on purpose. She told the judge the only way she could understand about hostility of some youths toward the law was to have a brush with it herself.

McInturf dismissed the case after reprimanding Mrs. Canning for "playing games with the law."

for all students. Adult lunches will be increased to 50 cents a meal in keeping with state suggestions. Book rentals, payable Tuesday, will remain the same as last year. Students are asked to pay book fees Tuesday, or as soon as possible.

Stupak Superintendent
Several changes have been made at the administrative level. Frank A. Stupak will assume the duties of superintendent and George Babadelis will be principal of the high school at Nahma. Mrs. Evangeline Plichta will act as principal of the Cook Elementary School, and George Soorus as principal of the Garden School and director of Title I activities in the district.

New teachers at the Garden Elementary Schools are Miss Alice Cruz, M. A. in Elementary Education, formerly of the Philippines and Iran, as fifth grade teacher, Mrs. Zeeta Richmond, B. A. formerly of the Milford and Escanaba Area Schools, second grade. Mrs. Nancy Johnson, B. S. kindergarten in the Cooks Elementary School. This will be Mrs. Johnson's first classroom experience.

Kenneth Marvic, B. A., whose experiences include teaching in Michigan and Wisconsin, social science and eighth grade math at the high school in Nahma.

Preschool Exam
Parents of kindergarten children are reminded that the Michigan law requires all children entering Public Schools for the first time to have a pre-school examination. This can be taken care of through the Delta-Menominee Health Department, or by the family doctor. This requirement should be taken care of before the opening of school.

All new students entering the Big Bay de Noc Schools for the first time will have opportunity to discuss their class schedules with class advisors, Tuesday, Sept. 3. Any new students who feel the need of any special help may call the Cooks School, Thursday, between 11 a.m. and 2:30 p.m., and at the Nahma School, Friday, between 11:00 a.m. and 2:30 p.m.

IT'S "SCHOOL" TIME for preschoolers in their own play and learn center. Toys play-tested and recommended for preschoolers 1 to 3 years old encourage the toddler's fascination for basic shapes, for counting, taking out and putting back, stacking and unstacking. Color recognition, shape discrimination, counting and motor control are the learning-while-playing values of the new toy, which also encourages tidiness.

Skin Gift Is Lifesaver

Dead Man Will Help Boy Live

DETROIT (AP)—An auto accident claimed the life of a 21-year-old ex-GI Tuesday. But that same death may help save the life of a 13-year-old boy.

Killed Tuesday was Paul Schoener of the Detroit suburb of Warren. Schoener, who returned from two years in the Army July 19, was killed when his car jumped a curb in Warren and smashed into a utility pole.

His grief stricken parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Schoener, notified hospital officials of their desire to donate their dead son's skin to Gary Shapiro.

Gary was burned over 75 per cent of his body in a cooking fire accident June 20. A week ago his doctor, pediatric surgeon Dr. James R. Lloyd, appealed for skin from recently dead persons in order to keep Gary alive.

"We read about Gary's need in the paper," Mrs. Schoener said. "We didn't dream we would be in a position to help."

Dr. Lloyd said Tuesday the gift of Schoener's skin will permit large skin grafts for Gary during the next two weeks. So far, more than 600 square inches of skin have come from living donors, including Gary's sons, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Shapiro of Southfield.

Dr. Lloyd explained that skin grafts wouldn't live on the boy's body, but they would prevent

Soldier Awarded Service Cross

VICKSBURG (AP) — Army Capt. Malcolm D. Otis, 27, of Vicksburg, has been awarded the Distinguished Service Cross, the nation's second highest award for valor, for bravery displayed in turning back the Tet offensive of the Viet Cong last Jan. 21 in Vietnam.

Commanding only a small force and with a pistol his only weapon, Otis was credited with routing an enemy battalion attacking Tan Son Nhut Airport near Saigon. He previously had won the Bronze Star and two Air Medals.

He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth J. Otis of Vicksburg, where his father is superintendent of schools. The captain is a West Point graduate.

First antismoke ordinance in the United States was passed by Chicago's city council in 1881.

Staebler Post Goes To Negro

CHICAGO (AP) State Sen. Coleman Young of Detroit has been unanimously elected national committeeman from Michigan.

Young, a Negro, succeeds Neil Staebler who was declined to seek re-election. Staebler said that Young is the nation's first Negro national committeeman ever elected.

In supporting Young, Staebler said, "We have pretty well eliminated the color line in the party in Michigan. We now have that kind of opportunity to make to the national party."

"I respect Black Power. I respect White Power," Staebler added. "But I respect even more partnership between Black Power and White Power."

Mildred Jeffrey was unanimously elected to the post of national committeewoman from Michigan.

Young called his election "another pioneering step" to eliminate racism in the party.

"I feel that a black voice should be heard," Young said. "But I also shall represent the total party of Michigan. The interest of the black people of America is the interest of America," Young stated.

Wisconsin-U.P. Tourism Conference In November

The Michigan-Wisconsin State Executive Committee of the Upper Midwest Research and Development Council at a luncheon meeting at the Pioneer Motor Inn Tuesday planned a meeting on tourism for the two states to be held Nov. 7-8.

The first day will be devoted to the development of recreational business in Northern Michigan and Northern Wisconsin and the second day to a transportation meeting to be sponsored by the Michigan Advisory Task Force to the Upper Great Lakes Regional Commission and by UPCA.

Chairman Ernest Ron, Ne-gaunee, of the M-W State Executive Committee will announce the site of the meeting later.

Action Is Goal
Invitations will go out from the Upper Midwest Research and Development Council at Minneapolis, which has for years worked to improve the economy of the Ninth Federal Reserve District. It has published many papers on the economy of the six state area and two years ago created the executive committees to advise on action programs to put the learning of the economic studies to work.

The meeting will be like one held by the Development Council in Minnesota to stimulate investment in recreational business and generally develop this important industry of the northern Great Lakes States. In discussion on the tasks that the meeting on tourism should take, Ken Dorman, manager of the Upper Michigan Tourist Association, said that every airport in the Upper Peninsula has a problem of financing conversion to jet service, one of the needs of area recreational growth.

Just Indian Cemeteries
Ray Mueller of the Bureau of Recreation, Wisconsin Department of Local Affairs & Development, Madison, said a recent Florida meeting on what states can do to promote recreational business revealed that there is big money available for such development as an industrial diversification trend. "They prefer to put private dollars and not public money in such investments," he said.

W. H. Treloar, Marquette, said, "A November meeting will be worthless unless there is a marriage of the people needed to create recreational business. The agency people have not been able to enlist the active participation of the doers in the U.P. If there's no response from business investors we must ask if government is going to do everything in recreation or whether we're going to limp along with a man and a concept of business and just show visitors rundown Indian cemeteries."

Industry Interested
Ronn said, "A two state meeting should broaden interest in development of the tourist industry and what might be done to enlarge it on a regional basis in Wisconsin and Upper Michigan. We should get business people and professional people and government together. The Upper Midwest Development Council is not politically oriented but it has urged upon government the creation of Voyageurs National Park in Minnesota."

Byron W. Reeves, president of Lake Shore, Inc., of Iron Mountain said, "Industry likes to see tourism move, but this is not our business." He said that industry is friendly toward tourism's development and should have an important role in the conference.

Council Sponsor
Robert Voigt of the Upper Midwest Council's staff at Minneapolis said that it would set up the conference under the leadership of Hugh Galusha, president of the Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis, and with the assistance of the Wisconsin Michigan Committee and structure the program so it

Class Ring Firm Cited As Unfair

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Trade Commission on Tuesday ordered L. G. Balfour Co., the nation's largest manufacturer of class rings and insignia pins, to scrap all its present contracts with national fraternities.

Accusing the Attleboro, Mass., firm of "unfair methods of competition and monopoliza-tion", the FTC told Balfour to issue contracts under new ground rules from now on.

Balfour was also ordered to divest itself of a subsidiary, Burr, Patterson & Auld Co. of Detroit, a former competitor.

Balfour was prohibited from selling, for the next five years, to any college fraternity that was under BPA contract as of June 16, 1961.

The insignia market is worth some $5.3 million a year.

A JOINT LEGISLATIVE Committee of the Michigan House and Senate heard testimony at the State Office Building in Escanaba on Tuesday in connection with proposed legislation to provide state funds for non-public schools. Msgr. Joseph Dunleavy, superintendent of St. Ambrose Catholic High School, Ironwood, testifies in support of the bill.

Committee Takes Testimony

Parochial Aid Is Debated

Upper Peninsula educators took sharply opposing positions Tuesday on the effect of state aid to non-public schools at a hearing before a Joint Legislative Committee at the State Office Building.

Fr. Lawrence Gauthier, Escanaba, superintendent of Catholic Schools, Marquette Diocese, said the majority of Diocesan schools are operating under financial stress and unless financial aid from an outside source is received many, if not all, of the schools will be forced to close.

Donald Brumbaugh, superintendent of the Norway-Vulcan area schools, said, however, that payment of state aid to non-public schools encourages fragmentation of school districts and is exactly opposite to state efforts promoting consolidation of districts in recent years.

A total of 20 persons testified before three members of the joint Senate-House committee in morning and afternoon sessions.

Rep. William L. Jowett (R-Port Huron), presiding over the hearing in the absence of the chairman, Sen. Anthony Stamm (R-Kalamazoo), said the committee was not attempting to "debate" the issue, but only to get the opinion of residents.

He said speeches were rotated — one pro and one con — to give both sides of the controversial subject an equal opportunity and that no attempt was made to limit the length of the speeches.

Sen. James D. Gray (D-Warren) and Rep. James S. Farnsworth (R-Plainwell) were the other members of the 10-member committee in Escanaba for the hearing, which was the fourth of five planned throughout Michigan. The final hearing is scheduled Thursday in Muskegon.

Testimony included comments on the constitutionality of aid to church-oriented schools, the method of payments to students attending non-public schools if legislation was approved, and the effect of such legislation on public institutions.

Witnesses and their testimony, in part, included:

Speakers For...

Father Lawrence Gauthier, Escanaba, superintendent of Catholic schools, Marquette Diocese: "The majority of our schools are operating under considerable financial aid from other sources, many, if not all, of them will be forced to close their doors . . . the Catholic Schools in the Diocese of Marquette have experienced declining enrollments over the past five years. (10,538 five years ago and 9,328 in 1967-68) This gradual decline in enrollment is due to several factors, but a major factor is the inability of many parents to pay the higher costs of tuition needed to operate our schools.

In Escanaba, for example, if a parent has children in the Catholic grade school and three children in attendance at the Catholic High School, it would cost the bread winner of the family $345 tuition plus the added expense of textbooks.

Many parents who would want to exercise their free right of choice in the matter of education find it economically impossible to provide tuition monies and tax support for the other needs of education in the community. . . .

The sharp increase in lay teacher's salaries and the shortage of religious teachers have combined to heighten the ever mounting financial crisis which faces the non-public schools in the Upper Peninsula . . . We hope the legislature will find a way to make it possible for us to stay in business. . . .

Victor G. Holiday, Marquette, president of the Board of Education of Bishop Baraga Catholic High School: "I speak to the parochial considerations in the City of Marquette." In Marquette, we have enjoyed excellent relations with the public schools. Bishop Baraga High School graduated its first class in 1908 and presently we are faced with either a complete renovation or replacement of the building . . . This, I feel, we can handle. The basic problem is operational . . . Bishop Baraga High School is being operated this year on a loan . . . Operational costs have increased 10 per cent per year. For now, we're worked out a program of shared time with the public schools on programs such as shop, domestic science and commercial . . . We're still faced with the crisis and as decision is likely by Jan. 1. "Can we continue?"

Dr. John Frey, Marquette, chemistry instructor at Northern Michigan University: My main object is to protest a system of education and distribution of educational benefits which I believe is "discriminatory and therefore unconstitutional" . . . Michigan has passed compulsory school attendance laws and also laws for collection of taxes and distribution of tax to make education possible. Taxes are collected regardless of race, creed or religion and therefore government is obligated to distribute tax money on this basis. . . .

I'd like to object as a parent. The Supreme Court said it is unlawful for a state to force students to attend public schools, yet Michigan laws do not permit children to attend non-public schools without a penalty, double taxation . . . As a taxpayer, why should I pay taxes for support of everyone's children but my own . . . It is essential that we give every child the opportunity to attend school equally . . . The present mode of taxation is antiquated. We need a state base. . . .

Dr. Roger P. Seidl, Menominee veterinarian, member of the Menominee Area Public School Board, Menominee County Intermediate School Board, Menominee Catholic Central Elementary School Board, and Diocesan Board of Education of the Catholic Diocese of Marquette

"I think that you would find that a vast majority of public school board members and public school administrators want to see non-public schools continue because they realize the contribution these schools make to our state, both scholastically and economically."

State aid for non-public schools "will not result in the destruction of the public school system, as some people have said it will."

Mrs. Agnes LaChapelle, St. Ignace, teacher. "The only difference (between public and parochial schools) is the one-half hour given for the teaching of religion." The educational programs are similar otherwise.

Eugene R. Zinn, Ironwood attorney, who represented a group of parochial school parents, said that "separation of church and state is an unfortunate phrase" which should rather encompass the thought of a cooperative state-church program, such as that already existing in America.

The educational programs offered in the parochial schools are the same as that in public schools, meet state standards, and should receive state assistance.

Msgr. Joseph Dunleavy of St. Ambrose Church parish, and administrative superintendent of St. Ambrose High School. He presented a paper prepared by the late Msgr. O'Neil D'Amour shortly before Msgr. D'Amour's death while attending a National Catholic School Association conference in San Francisco.

Separation of church and state was termed a "slogan" by Msgr. D'Amour which has been misunderstood. There need not be a "sharp distinction" between church and state, and in education there is the higher right of the parents to educate their children in the school of their choice. The church has the right to insist that the children of its church be educated to perform well as citizens of the church.

The objective in parochial education is to protect American pluralism and freedom of choice in education for American youth.

Senator James Gray, member of the committee, commented that 84 per cent of the moneys asked to assist non-public schools would go to Catholic schools in Michigan. This would leave smaller denominations "out in the cold."

Msgr. Dunleavy replied that the decision on where the child shall attend school is that of the parents, and that the privi-

Speakers Against...

Rev. Roy Pitts, Manistique, Baptist minister speaking for the Michigan Baptist Conference: I speak in opposition on several points . . . the so-called "child benefit" theory is fictitious because it is impossible to separate aid which will benefit the child from that which will benefit the school. Clearly, the issue is not aid to children, but aid to parochial schools . . . by giving aid to parents, the state is just doing indirectly what it cannot do directly . . . the idea that giving aid to non-public schools will save the state money is highly deceptive sales talk. The initial $21 million figure may be correct, but the state eventually will have to assume 80 per cent, or more of the cost, a figure closer to $200 million. The state must never take the first financial step . . . If a school receives state aid, then it ought to drop all bars to admittance . . . If Bible reading and prayer is not allowed in public schools, then it must be banned in private schools. . . .

Edwin Wuehle, Manistique, superintendent of the Manistique Area Public Schools: I am speaking in an area from personal reference. I was trained to teach in a non-public school (Lutheran) and I did my practice teaching in a non-public school. It is impossible to separate secular from religious education. Religion is just not catechism or Bible study, it permeates all subjects. I think this still holds true today. If this is pertinent, I think it bears relation. If this is surely an economic discussion, then it doesn't.

Donald Brumbaugh, Norway, superintendent of Norway-Vulcan Area public schools: I speak in opposition to the bill as presented because it tends to retard educational development . . . the bill said no religious courses would be financed, but this is contrary to the philosophy expressed by non-public schools . . . passage of this bill will cause hardships to public schools. The state forced consolidation of smaller school districts and this was a good thing. In the Norway-Vulcan area we consolidated four years ago and have been able to provide a good education for the people of the area. The starting of a non-public school in our district three years ago will put us back where we were before consolidation. . . . If religious instruction must be taught during the school day, why can't it be handled through a program of release time. . . .

In our district, we are losing $100,000 per year in state aid because of the operation of a non-public school. . . . The Upper Peninsula loses nearly $3 million in state aid because these schools are in existence. This money must be replaced locally. . . . I believe this bill will create more problems than it will solve. It tends to promote racial, economic and religious segregation. . . .

Paul Blewett, Bark River, Region 17 representative for the Michigan Education Association: The legislature has urged reorganization of school districts into larger units, but "by granting non-public aid would encourage the smaller groups" to form schools, including Methodists, Lutherans and Black Muslims, etc. . . . Of all MEA units in Dickinson, Alger, Marquette, Delta and Menominee counties, not a single unit is in favor of aid to non-public schools. . . . Eventually the state would "pay total costs" and the public would have nothing to say about the operation of the schools. . . .

Richard R. Rohde, Ironwood superintendent of schools, spoke for the Michigan Association of School Administrators. The School Administrators oppose any legislation which directly or indirectly diverts money from the public schools. The proposed legislation "is ill-advised and would have consequences which would be most harmful" to public education. He questioned whether taxpayers of Michigan should be taxed to support a school system which indoctrinates a child in a certain direction—"promotes a certain religion."

He suggested that time and study might better be devoted to shared time programs rather than to divert public funds; and described as hurtful to a child to be told that he is attending "a Godless public school."

"I am afraid we will create a monster and I dread to see that happen" if more state funds are provided for non-public schools, he said.

Dr. Julius Barber, executive director of the Michigan School Board Association, noted that he has followed the Committee from city to city in its hearings in representing the Association's position against diverting funds from the public schools.

The free system of education in America is the "greatest in the world" and has helped develop democracy by bringing children together in an association of interests and ideals. The educational segregation of children cannot be justified, he said.

If non-public schools are more fully financed by the public, "every church" will have the right to receive money, there will be more private schools "and the end of public schools."

Senator Farnsworth questioned whether in the Escanaba Area Public School system, where voters have five times rejected operating millage proposals, there might have been a more favorable outcome if there were "some contribution to the parochial schools?"

"I would hesitate to overrule the good judgment of the (Escanaba Area) School Board," Dr. Barber replied.

Rev. Konstantin Wipp, pastor of the First Methodist Church, Escanaba, testified "as a private citizen" and not as a representative of the church.

"I cannot convince myself that in this country a parochial education is necessary in our kind of society."

However, if persons feel they want "the luxury of private education," then they should pay for it.

Both Protestant and Catholic men and women teach and have positions as administrators in public schools. How then can they be described as Godless, he asked. The lack of formal prayers does not make them Godless, he added.

In our age there is no longer a place for the purely sectarian point of view, there should be support for a stronger public school system rather than division of education, and he called for a vote of confidence in the public school system.

William Dudgeon, principal of the Seventh Day Adventist School at Wilson, said his school is opposed to state aid for parochial schools although his church operates parochial schools.

He cited reasons for the Seventh Day Adventist position: It is impossible to separate secular and religious instruction in a parochial school. Parochial schools give the children the type of religious education the parents want them to have.

"Beyond meeting state standards of education in our program we intertwine religion with instruction."

Replying to a question he said his church provides teachers who serve for less money because they "are dedicated to the work of God."

Robert D. Haack, Escanaba parent and taxpayer, said that "to give public funds to church schools is to give them to the church itself."

"The Roman Catholic Church has referred to their parochial schools as being 'the right arm of the church.' I accept its description."

He cited the Michigan Constitution and said the "parochial schools are in violation on three counts."

"Only those schools which belong to all the people, those whose doors are open to all the people regardless of color, race, national origin or religious affiliation, and who serve all on an equal basis are entitled to be supported by taxes paid by all," he concluded.

Lawrence Hulsizer, Kingsford, educational consultant to Northern Michigan University, said he spoke "as a taxpayer" and charged that non-public schools are not subject to the same state controls as public schools. Non-public schools employ non-certified teachers, he said.

In parochial schools text books are selected for their religious influence as well as learning; "religion becomes a part of reading" and even in math; and students are selected for attendance at parochial schools on the basis of religion, race, and financial position, he said.

Should there be a substantial amount of state aid pro-

GLADSTONE City To Review One Assessment, Others To Stand

Several protests on street assessments were made at the regular meeting of the City Commission Monday evening but after explanations by City Manager A. J. Henrikson, all but one were approved.

Henrikson said each lot on a block is assessed a portion of the total cost of the block with the corner lot receiving the larger assessment and the center lot the smallest.

The Commission agreed to have property owned by John Savoy, 1717 Michigan Ave., checked as part of the street work adjacent to his property had been done by the Highway Department at the time U. S. 2-41 was constructed.

Pay In Two Years

All assessments will be payable within a two-year period and will be tax free if paid within one year from the date of approval by the Commission. If half of the total amount is unpaid by the end of the first year, that remaining half will be due two years from the date of approval.

Permission was granted to Harold Corwin to install a pump on an existing well near Fernwood Cemetery and owned by the city. Corwin will be required to assume all responsibility for this action.

The request for final payment to L. W. Brumfin for work in the Industrial Park was tabled until the commissioners re-examine the portion of sidewalk on N. 9th St., damaged by the contractors' equipment. A special meeting on Thursday was scheduled to make arrangements for payment.

Patrolmen Lovell Girard and Carlton A. Mineau were authorized to attend the pistol shoot in Jackson on Sept. 5, having scored highest in the local competition. Patrolman Courtney Dahn will attend the Basic Police Training in Marquette from Oct. 7 to 25.

Discuss Trailers

The commissioners discussed the advisability of selling or improving the trailer park facilities in Gladstone.

Commissioner Frank Stupak said several trailers have been parked in Wilderness Park for some time waiting for a vacancy in the city trailer court. Henrikson said about seven people were waiting for pads, but that money to finance improvements or additions is not available.

Commissioner George Young said he felt that since the Commission had agreed to sell the city court, the property should be appraised before further action is taken. The city manager was asked to have this done.

Commissioner Arne Anderson asked that an old road off U.S. 2-41 near the Stang driveway be put into driving condition. He said the Stang driveway had been closed to the public since several accidents have occurred at that point and now residents of the area, behind Stang's building, are forced to go to Kipling to enter the highway. Henrikson said he would check the condition of the road.

Golf

The ladies of the Gladstone Golf Club will hold their annual fun day on Thursday. This will be a pari-mutuel and starting time will be 2:30. Cocktail hour will follow the golfing, banquet and the awarding of prizes.

Tunics, Trousers Star In French Collections

PARIS (AP) — The French fall and winter collections have once again set a new pace in styles, fabrics, ideas and colors. The buyers have come and gone. They arrived filled with apprehension but most left happy, armed with new ideas and merchandise.

Fashion photos released today show that hemlines brush knee-caps at most of the great traditional houses, but are still lifted two to four inches above at the younger avant-garde houses. They are Cardin, Courreges, Ungaro, Feraud, Esterel.

The traditionalists are Dior, Givenchy, Balmain, Gres, Lanvin. They believe in women and in fashions doing something for them.

Jump Suits
Big news this season is "pants for every hour." Even Givenchy, known for his distinction, comes out with hostess jump suits in black satin, and Coco Chanel, the rebel, has Bermuda legs peeking out from beneath glamorous tunics in precious brocades.

Two styles go round the clock. They are seen at most houses. The chasuble dress is revived with emphasis, but treated to major surgery, its midriff contrasting in media and color. Vinyl, or patent, or leather, shows again and again at Cardin's. Obviously knitted turtle-necks go with it.

The tunic gets a new lease on life everywhere. Most skirts flare but only younger houses sponsor skating-skirt styles for the young set. Every type of fabric is seen, from double flannels to elaborate brocades or all-beaded and jeweled fabrics.

Sue Timmer Is Graduate Of Business School

Sue Timmer

Sue L. Timmer of Escanaba graduated from Bryant & Stratton Business College of Milwaukee on August 25. Commencement Exercises were held at the Milwaukee War Memorial Center.

She received an individual award for her outstanding work on the staff of the year book.

Sue was a 1967 graduate of the Escanaba Area High School and has accepted a position as private secretary with the Midland National Bank of Milwaukee, in the Credit and Loan Dept.

A reception was held at the War Memorial Center for all the graduates, parents and friends. Sue is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Timmer of 2210 12th Ave S. Escanaba.

People

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hentz and girls of Wells, returned from an extended trip which took them 7,176 miles through 21 states. Highlights of their travel included the Rain Forest, Olympic Peninsula and Space Needle in Washington; into Oregon and California through the Kings Canyon National Park, Sequoia National Park and Disneyland.

Black Is In

Black is terribly chic once again. Red, brown, gray and green are other basics. Sapphire blue needs watching.

There has been so much seethrough and nudity around that the designers themselves have turned to suggestive and seductive covered-up glamor, floor-length and long-sleeved, with built up necklines. The billfold wraparounds often reveal an expanse of bare leg or flowing pants in chiffon, brocade or crepe.

Evening Glamour

Come evening the word is glamour for both couturier groups. Brocades come into their own, gauze, metallic weaves. Bands of jeweled embroidery fall in with the Renaissance trend evident in the treatment of sleeve decor and jewelry. The Oriental trend is found at Chanel and Givenchy.

Style focus is on midriffs, often stressed with leather, vinyl or patent leather. Tunics are important.

CYNTHIA APELGREN and Stephen Paul Cowen will be married, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Apelgren, 425 Minneapolis Ave., Gladstone, announce. Cowen's parents are also Gladstone residents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Cowen, 1121 Dakota Ave. The bride-elect is a senior at Northern Michigan University and her fiancé is a senior at Michigan Technological University. They are both 1965 graduates of Gladstone High School. No date has been set for the wedding. (Delta Studio)

Barbara Johnson Bride Of Charles E. Propst

St. Joseph's Church in Escanaba was the setting Saturday, Aug. 24, for the double ring ceremony uniting in marriage Miss Barbara Johnson and Charles Edmund Propst.

Officiating at the 1 p.m. nuptial high mass was Rev. Jordan Telles O.F.M. During the ceremony the bride placed a floral bouquet at the altar of the Blessed Virgin.

Parents of the bridal couple, both Escanaba residents, are Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Johnson, Rte. 1 and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Propst, 412 S. 19th St.

Bridal Gown
The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an A-line gown of bridal taffeta beneath a Chantilly lace wedding coat extending into a full chapel length train. The coat, with fitted bodice, scalloped neckline and elbow length sleeves, fastened in front with a bow.

A coronet of pearls and lace secured her triple tier veil of imported silk illusion accented with lace medallions. She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations.

Miss Karen Pinozek of Marquette was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Mrs. Richard Houle, Sandy Collins and Marsha and Diane Propst, sisters of the bridegroom.

Their dresses formed a rainbow in shades of yellow, blue, green, pink and aqua. Hints from Heloise

By HELOISE CRUSE

Dear Heloise:
My refrigerator defrosts automatically, but my crispers get too much moisture in them so that my lettuce, cucumbers, fruit, etc., were spoiling. I bought a small package of sponges and use three in each crisper.

They absorb most of the moisture, and my lettuce, etc., will now keep fresh (without spillage) for two weeks or more.

The sponges can be removed and washed when necessary.

Mrs. M. Harris

I just lined mine with a thin piece of foam rubber. Fantabulous!

Dear Heloise:
Before going on a long car trip I put a crib mattress and quilts on the back seat of the car for my two small children. I build up the back car floor with suitcases so they're about even with the seat and spread out the mattress and quilts. The children can play, sleep and be comfortable. Also see out the window without having to stand up.

Elaine

Letter Of Laughter
Dear Heloise:
Did you ever think you had come to the point of no return? Wondering

You can well bet your last pair of shoes I have... haven't we all?

Heloise

Many of us have short zippers lying around but not long ones. (After all, they cost quite a bit.)

Twice now I've had occasion to put in a long zipper and had none. I used two short ones with the openings of each facing the other. When both zippers are opened, the full length of the two zippers is open.

I've used these on cot mattress covers, covers for twin-size foam mattresses, etc., as these can be folded and inserted in a small opening.

The Center subscribes to the New York Times large-type weekly, Modern Maturity, Harvest Years, and Aging magazines. Subscriptions to the Escanaba Daily Press, Manistique Pioneer-Tribune, and Milwaukee Journal are donated by those publications.

Anyone desiring to donate books or magazines may bring them to the center between 10 a.m. and 5 p.m. daily and also on Wednesday and Friday evenings, or phone 341-5923 for pick-up.

Last year's captain Mike Maniaci heads the list of notables lost to the Braves through graduation. Also gone are All-Conference halfback Dan Gohbert, All-Conference linebacker Bill Johnson, quarterbacks Dan Pepin and Pete Jarvis, halfback Dan Mangerer and end Jim Sivenson.

Steve Nelson is expected to get the call at one offensive end post with Eric Trichel or Steve Maniaci manning the other spot. Mike Lagina and Gary Goodman or Maniaci will handle the tackle spots; Gordon Wery and Ed Hart are tabbed for the guard positions; Jim Dehlin or Craig Johnson will get the nod at center and Cliff Young or Bruce Richards will run the team from the quarterback spot. Also expected to help out on offense are Apelgren, Stupak, Erickson, Pfothenauer, Stade, Oja, Dallhopf and Cole.

On defense, Bob Young and Mike Quinn will play end; Lagina and Maniaci hold down the tackle spots; Johnson will be in the middle; Bob Carlson, Dehlin and Dallhopf man the linebacker positions; John Skellenger and Dean Culliton move in to play halfbacks and Nelson moves to safety. Bonds' Slugging Gives Giants Victory

By The Associated Press

Bobby Bonds reminds Willie Mays of a youngster named Willie Mays. The Chicago Cubs will tell you the resemblance is frightening.

Bonds, San Francisco's promising rookie outfielder, cracked a pair of homers and knocked in six runs Tuesday night as the surging Giants whipped the Cubs 8-4.

The 22-year-old speedster, recently singled out by teammate Mays as "the guy who could take my place," accounted for five runs with his fourth and fifth homers after delivering one with a bases-loaded ground out.

Bonds' slugging helped the second place Giants, who have won 14 of their last 17 starts, pick up a game on St. Louis' National League leaders, who were beaten 2-0 by the New York Mets. Cincinnati blasted Philadelphia 10-0, Pittsburgh nipped Atlanta 4-3 in 11 innings and Houston beat Los Angeles 4-2 in other NL games.

Bonds, who set a modern major league record by hitting a grand slam homer in his first game three months ago, gave right-hander Bob Bolin a 1-0 lead in the second inning with his bases-loaded grounder. He greeted Chicago reliever Jack Lamabe with a 400-foot homer, good for three RBI, in the fourth and connected off Bill Stoneman with one on in the sixth.

He is batting .257, with 21 RBI, in 49 games with the Giants.

Jim Hart's two-run single in the sixth capped the Giants' attack, enabling Bolin to breeze to his seventh victory in 11 decisions. Willie Smith, who made his first pitching appearance for the Cubs as a late-inning reliever, tagged Bolin for a two-run homer in the ninth.

Dick Selma scattered six hits to break a personal five-game losing streak and Tommie Agee drove in three runs with a homer and single as the Mets shut out the Cards for the second successive night.

Agee's fifth homer, a leadoff shot in the third inning, gave Selma all the support he needed and pinned the loss on Larry Jaster, 8-11, who has dropped six in a row.

Tony Clendenon blanked the Phillies on four hits, struck out 11 and clubbed a three-run double in the Reds' six-run fourth. It was the Reds' ninth straight victory over Philadelphia and the third for Cloninger, who is 5-6 over-all with Atlanta and Cincinnati.

Fred Whitfield hit a two-run homer, Tommy Helms contributed a two-run double and Pete Rose extended his hitting streak to 17 games with a fourth inning single.

Donn Clendenon reached first on a third-strike wild pitch to open the 11th at Atlanta. He took second on a sacrifice bunt and scored the winning run on Jerry May's two-out single.

Mike Lum's eighth inning homer off Jim Bunning had lifted the Braves into a 3-3 tie.

Doug's Dubbers Win At Highland

In a fantastic wrap-up to the Highland twilight league, the Doug's Dubbers and the Free Swingers, who entered the final league match just one stroke apart, both finished with a possible twelve out of fourteen points, giving the Dubbers a one point edge and the league title, 109 to 108. Finishing in the other pay-off spots were the Bogey Men, Con's Clubbers and the Super Valus, in that order.

In the first league action on the full 18-hole course, Dick Nelson set the pace with a 36-38-74, followed by Abe Milkovich's 36-40-76. Dave Friets had a 38-39-77. Other low scores for nine holes were Mel Manske 37, Bob Boucher, Ward Steimert, Earl Koch, Al Davidson 38, Ron Sharkey, Carl Fassbender, and Tom Bartozek 39, and Bob Olson, Bob Heymen, Dave Erickson and Einar Beck 40.

Golf ball winners were Palmer Derouin, Carl Fassbender, Ron Sharkey, Earl Koch, George Milkovich, Ed Motto, and Bud Stade.

Final team standings: Doug's Dubbers 109, Free Swingers 108, Bogey Men 104½, Con's Clubbers, 92, Super Valus 88½, Hackers 80, W. R.'s 76½, Barney's Beavers and Has Beens 76, Smitty's Smackers 75, Divot Diggers 73½, Dave's Dandies 70, 7-Dwarfs 63, and Ding-a-Lings 53.

Next Tuesday the twilight golfers will play a 2-man Best Ball event, in either a 9-hole or 18-hole feature. Anyone interested in playing should call the Highland this week, or sign up on Tuesday with the starter.

FOB Detroit

DETROIT — Some painful thoughts about the Tigers, other than the pitching problems and the hitting problems:

Denny McLain, in one way, is injuring the Tigers in the pennant race. Not his pitching; the byproduct of his pitching. McLain is simply trying to cash in, in advance, on his 30-victory season before he's won 30 ball games.

The other day he spent 2½ hours in action. He made appearances, talked about endorsements, granted exclusive magazine interviews, gave an organ recital. He woke up at 5:30 in the morning in New York, didn't go to bed until 4 the next morning in Detroit. Some day of rest. At 11:30 that next morning he was in another conference with his musical ensemble. Then he had another business meeting with his agents. Then he went to the ball park to go to work.

That night, Denny McLain pitched — or tried to pitch. He had nothing on the ball, he confessed, couldn't even finesse the hitters. So he was hit hard and the Tigers lost.

You can't blame the young man for wanting to get rich quick. So do I. McLain should make more money outside of baseball simply because he is Denny McLain, the accomplished baseball player.

The $100,000 figure for next year is a pretty round one which everybody insists is McLain's target from the Tigers. Everybody but McLain says that. Would you believe McLain will start at $200,000? I would, because that's the figure he mentioned.

The whole point is what will happen if McLain doesn't win 30 and the Tigers don't win the pennant?

Dick McAuliffe hurt the Tigers in the pennant race. McAuliffe has a terrible temper. He doesn't care for pitchers throwing at him, and you can't blame him.

The pitcher he attacked when two pitches were tucked beneath his chin coincidentally had hit four Tigers in one game earlier. Coincidental, my foot. The White Sox pitchers have been throwing at the Tigers all year. Last year, too, when a pitcher was fined for disobedience to managerial orders to deck a Tiger batter.

Perhaps Tommy John, the pitcher involved in the McAuliffe affair, deserved some retaliation. Frankly, it was time somebody did something to stop the White Sox from throwing at the Tigers.

Nevertheless, Joe Cronin, American League president, made a ruling that was grossly unjust, in my opinion. He never gave McAuliffe any sort of hearing before suspending him for five days. Cronin's kangaroo court could well affect the outcome of the pennant race.

Just a few days before Warren Giles, National League president, granted Phil Regan a hearing after a violent dispute with an umpire. Listening to both sides, Giles exonerated Regan. Cronin could have done as much. He made his decision on the report of an umpire who has had problems suppressing his emotions. The same umpire earlier this year permitted himself to fling a scorecard into the face of a heckling Tiger Stadium patron. The umpire went unchastised.

McAuliffe's punishment did not fit his crime. Cronin's action, without a trial, was disgraceful. But McAuliffe was guilty of indiscretion. I don't believe he would have been suspended, at the start of the stretch of the pennant race, if he had not been an offender before. He has been tossed out of a game for cussing an umpire and been in a couple of brawls before.

If he had exercised some temper control, it never would have happened. You have to squelch your emotions in a pennant race.

Engadine Eagles Face Grid Rebuilding Year

ENGADINE — Coach Rod Carlson faces a rebuilding year at Engadine High School this fall as only one regular is back among eight returning lettermen on the Eagles' grid squad.

Carlson's Engadine Eagles posted a 4-5 record last season. A squad of 36 players is practicing daily from 5:30 to 8 p. m., getting ready for the season opener at Rudyard Friday.

Doug Webb, the lone regular, returns at end with John Greenwald along with tackles Jim Schutt and Charles Vallier; guard Dean Salter; halfbacks Pat Bigger and Ron Weger and fullback John Matchinski. All are seniors except Weger who is a junior.

Up from the J. V. team and destined to see plenty of action this fall are Ken Kleeman, Dan Polachek, Martin Matchinski, Alex Richardson, Skip Bigger, Mike Kerridge, John Brown, Ken Germain and Gus Fillman.

The Eagles won't be hurting for size this season with freshmen Gary King (230) and Greg Webb (211) and sophomores Alan Schroeder (203) and Dick Lesatz (202) reporting to the squad.

Gone from last year's team are All-Conference and All U. P. honorable mention center Cliff Wamsley; end Daryl Houghton and fullback Deryl Miller along with Leon Everhart, Jim Gribbell, Don Stillson, Bill Barber, Harry McNeill, Mike Schutt, Art Hancock and Walt Frazier.

Carlson will be assisted by Gerry Bath, a graduate of Ne-gaunee High School, who will be the assistant varsity coach this year.

"With only one regular returning, our entire offensive line has to be rebuilt," stated Coach Carlson. "We do have some experience in the defensive backfield with linebacker Dean Salter and halfbacks Ron Weger and John Greenwald returning. We have a young, aggressive group of boys and if we can avoid injuries and mental mistakes, we could field a respectable ball club this year," the Engadine coach added.

The Engadine schedule: Aug. 30 — at Rudyard Sept. 7 — DeTour Sept. 13 — at Cedarville Sept. 21 — Cheboygan Catholic Sept. 27 — at Pickford Oct. 5 — Brimley Oct. 12 — at Loretto Oct. 19 — Gaylord St. Mary

Tigers Fail In 9th; Lead Dwindles To 4

CHICAGO (AP) — With their American League lead dwindling and their confidence staggering, the Detroit Tigers are banking on Denny McLain and Dick McAuliffe to pull them out of their current rut.

The Tigers blew a 2-1 decision to the Chicago White Sox Tuesday night while the hot-handed Baltimore Orioles swept a doubleheader from Oakland, 5-3 and 7-2, to creep within four games of Detroit.

How important are McLain and McAuliffe to the Tiger cause?

Since their current tailspin, McLain has lost his last two starts and missed his turn Tuesday night because of a sore shoulder.

McLain, a 25-game winner, will pitch against California tonight and McAuliffe also will be in the line-up. After a two-game set with the Angels, the Tigers take on Baltimore for three games over the weekend.

"We have no complaints," said Manager Mayo Smith after Detroit's loss to the Sox Tuesday night on a ninth-inning error by second baseman Tom Matchick, McAuliffe's replacement.

"We had the bases loaded with none out in the top of the ninth and should have busted it wide open but we couldn't score," said Smith.

"The kid (Matchick) made a good play on (Luis) Aparicio's ball but couldn't get anything on the throw. Don't worry, we'll get straightened out."

White Sox Manager Al Lopez said, "I was surprised Matchick even came up with Aparicio's ball. It should have gone through for a hit. It's a tough game for Detroit to lose but it was a good game."

"I don't know who's going to win the pennant," said Lopez "but I sure wish we were in Detroit's position—four games in front."

McLain, meanwhile, wasn't with the club in Chicago. He was in Detroit getting treatment for his right shoulder.

"He'll pitch Wednesday," said Smith "and again on Sunday against Baltimore."

Buddy Bradford walked to open the Sox' ninth and Gerry McNertney sacrificed. After Daryl Patterson replaced Detroit starter John Hiller, second baseman Matchick knocked down Aparicio's infield hit behind the bag, but threw low to first as Bradford raced home with the winning run.

The Tigers filled the bases with nobody out in the top of the ninth but failed to score. Reliever Wilbur Wood grabbed Willie Horton's tap and started a home-to-first double play before Aparicio gloved Norm Cash's smash and threw him out, nipping the threat.

Cash blasted his 20th homer in the fifth, but the White Sox tied it in the bottom of the inning on Sandy Alomar's two-out double and Tommy Davis' run-scoring single.

Jack Fisher, a last-minute substitute for scheduled starter Joe Horlen, who came up with a stiff neck, checked the Tigers on three hits until the ninth, when Matchick singled and Micky Stanley walked.

Wood came on and threw too late to third on Jim Northrup's sacrifice bunt, then pitched out of the bases-loaded jam.

Hiller, who beat the Sox with a one-hitter last week, was tagged for 11 hits, but hung on until the ninth.

Crucial Series Arrives

DETROIT (AP) — That crucial, three-game series Detroit baseball fans have been waiting for has finally arrived.

The luck of the draw has placed it in Tiger Stadium this weekend. The Baltimore Orioles, championing to get another shot at the Bengals after losing three out of four at Baltimore the last week in July, are the opposition.

Detroit officials are hoping for 140,000 fans for the three games.

The Orioles, fresh from a doubleheader sweep over Oakland Wednesday, trimmed 1½ games off the Tigers lead as Detroit was nipped by Chicago 2-1.

With only four games separating the two clubs, a Baltimore sweep would narrow the gap to a single game and open up the almost dull American League Race.

Should the Tigers take the series, it would put the Detroiters seven games up and well on the road to their first pennant in 23 years.

The Tigers can't afford to lose more than one of the three games. So Manager Mayo Smith will have Earl Wilson, John Hiller and Denny McLain ready to go.

Baltimore Manager Earl Weaver is expected to have ace Dave McNally, Jim Hardin and Tom Phoebus ready for Detroit.

The two teams have split 12 games this year. But past records will go out the window.

The Orioles have been the hottest team in the league since the All-Star break, playing at a better than .600 clip.

The Tigers were battling their way out of a slump, victorious in 13 of 15 games, when they ran into a buzzsaw in New York last weekend, losing four straight. They also wasted nine shutout innings of relief by Hiller in a 19-inning tie.

Second baseman Dick McAuliffe, suspended for five days because of a fight with Chicago's Tommy John last week, will return to action when the Tigers open a two-game series with California tonight.

Denny McLain, in Detroit for treatment of his 25-victory shoulder, will pitch for Detroit with Mickey Lolich going in the second game on Thursday.

Rich Saul, Michigan State junior linebacker standout, spends his summers working in the coal mine owned and operated by his father in Butler, Pa.

Orioles Sweep Twinbill To Close In On Tigers

By The Associated Press

Those nitty gritty ballplayers who give their all for the team—that's a ballplayer's ballplayer.

But those guys who pinch hit for another pinch hitter and slam a game winning home run in the last of the ninth—that's a pinch hitter's pinch hitter. That's Merv Rettenmund.

The rookie outfielder, who has made most of his infrequent appearances for the Baltimore Orioles by coming off the bench, won the label Tuesday night.

Rettenmund, recently recalled from the minor leagues, slammed his first major league homer with one on and one out and lifted the Orioles to a 5-3 victory over Oakland in the opener of a two-night doubleheader.

When the Orioles won the nightcap 7-2 and Detroit lost to the Chicago White Sox 2-1, Baltimore found itself only four games behind the American League leading Tigers.

The Orioles haven't been that close to the lead since June 10 when Detroit led Cleveland by only three games.

Off in the distance Boston stomped Cleveland 7-1 and the New York Yankees stopped California 2-0 before losing 2-0 in afternoon contests. At night, Minnesota blasted Washington 7-1 after losing 2-0 in a twin-biller.

Curt Blefary had given the Orioles a 3-0 lead with his 11th homer in the fourth inning, but the Orioles found themselves deadlocked 3-3 after Reggie Jackson, Rick Monday and Sal Bando unloaded solo homers in the seventh for the A's.

Blefary singled with one out in the ninth off losing right-hander Jack Aker, 3-3, and when left-handed Elrod Hendricks was sent up to pinch hit for Larry Haney, Oakland switched to left-hander Warren Bogle.

Continuing the game of platooning, Baltimore Manager Earl Weaver called on Rettenmund.

The 25-year-old right-handed hitter, making his ninth appearance at the plate this season, responded by belting the first pitch over the left field fence. He now has a single, two doubles and a homer for a .444 batting average.

Wally Bunker, another recall from the minors this year, took care of the nightcap with a six-hitter in his first start since Aug. 7. He is 2-0.

Blefary and Don Buford, No. 13, supplied the home run power in the nightcap, both connecting Aker in the fifth inning, and Dave Johnson stole home during a three-run fourth inning rally as the Orioles won their 17th game in 24 outings.

Bruce Look's three-run double gave Minnesota its first runs in 26 innings in the nightcap behind Jim Roland's first complete game since 1963, a five-hitter.

But the Senators grabbed the opener when Epstein's lead-off single in the eighth ruined Dean Chance's bid for a no-hitter, and Bernie Allen followed with his fifth homer. Camilo Pascual, 12-8, allowed only four hits for the triumph.

Rookies Bill Harrelson, 5-2-3 innings, and Andy Messersmith stopped the Yankees on one hit—Joe Pepitone's bloop hit in the sixth—in California's victory after Stan Bahnsen, seven innings, and Steve Hamilton combined on a six-hitter for New York in the opener.

The result left the Yankees with a 5-2-1 record for four doubleheaders in five days.

Ray Culp, 10-5, turned in a four-hitter for Boston's triumph, and Reggie Smith squeezed home one run and Floyd Robinson singled in two in a four-run third inning.

Colleges Still Need Students

LANSING (AP) — There is still room for some 3,000 additional students in Michigan colleges and universities this fall.

Several of the major universities report they are completely filled for the fall term. Some 50 others still are able to accept qualified applicants.

Students still interested in applying for admission to college this fall should contact the Division of Student Financial Aids, at the education department's Lansing office.

Students are asked to indicate what class they desire to enter and preferences for geographical location and type of institution.

'Wolfpack Journalism' Called News Distorter

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP) — Newspapers in the United States are being distorted by "wolfpack journalism," associate editor Roscoe C. Born of The National Observer declared Tuesday.

Born addressed the Association for Education in Journalism at the University of Kansas after receiving an award for his weekly Washington newspaper from the American Society of Journalism School Administrators.

By wolfpack journalism, Born explained, he meant the practice of reporters instinctively ganging up on an individual or group and obtaining a biased portrait of their target as a totally evil subject without bothering to make a full investigation.

"In this day, wolfpack reporting wears the disguise of public service, and its practitioners often are publicly acclaimed for their accomplishments," he asserted.

Hoffa Cited

Without trying to defend them, Born cited labor leader James Hoffa and the National Rifle Association as victims of wolfpack journalism.

Recalling news stories about Hoffa before the former Teamsters Union chief was sent to prison, Born said:

"Out of the thousands, perhaps millions of times his name appeared in print in those days, almost no effort was made by the press to report him fairly... almost no effort was made, really, to understand Jimmy Hoffa—other than the occasional Sunday piece that purported to answer the question, why is Jimmy Hoffa such a crook?"

The Washington editor said the National Rifle Association has come to be "known to any newspaper reader as the advocate of assassination and indiscriminate murder in the streets and parks."

Ag. Dept. Cheat

Added Born: "I favor gun control, but I don't believe that justifies making the NRA into such a heavy that it must be hissed and booed by the press every time it puts in an appearance."

Born also related how The National Observer found the Agriculture Department deliberately rigged a survey of state-inspected meat packing plants. The survey was credited with playing a key role in passage of the Federal Wholesome Meat Act of 1967.

Born related that federal meat inspectors were ordered to survey only plants they knew contained unsanitary conditions and to use inflammatory terms in their reports.

"This hoax couldn't have been accomplished if the press corps had been doing a thorough reporting job all the way along," said Born. "It is frightening to think we could be that easily hoodwinked."

Magazines Too

In another talk to the journalism teachers, Robert Bishop and Helen Johnson of the University of Michigan examined how seven national magazines handled a report made last March by President Johnson's National Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders.

In general, the researchers concluded, none of the magazines did a fair or comprehensive job of summarizing the commission's findings. They rated the New Republic, Life, and Saturday Review magazines as favoring conclusions of the study; Time, U.S. News & World Report, and Business Week taking a conservative approach, and Newsweek in a neutral position.

The researchers added:

"The inescapable conclusion from this survey is that most white Americans will hear it like they want to hear it—filtered through white-oriented media which pick and choose according to outmoded standards of news value, equating news with blood and according to the self-interest of their audiences."

Agency Says Nader Wrong

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government's auto safety agency rejected Tuesday a claim by Ralph Nader that there was a safety defect in parts of the front suspension system of the 1967 Ford Mustang.

Dr. William Haddon Jr., director of the Federal Highway Administration's National Safety Bureau, said an investigation showed no defect in the "drag struts" of either 1967 or 1968 Mustangs.
